

Timeless Today

Vasanthi Vasudev

I want to lock
The moment in my eye
Before it vanishes
Into mundane future.

I want to trap
The voice in my mind
Before it filters
Into the din of life.

I want to hide
The thought in my palm
Before it gets lost
In daily chores.

I want to preserve
The togetherness in my heart
Before it beats again
In drudging routine.

I want to dissolve myself
In today's thought
Before I am born into
Meaningless tomorrow.

I want to taste
The unknown joys of living
Before I continue with
The known hum-drum of existence.

I want to be
With only myself
For only then
Am I with you !
